

November 2, 2008: Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed (All Souls Day)

“And this is the will of the One who sent Me, that I should not lose anything of what He gave Me, but that I should raise it on the last day. For this is the will of My Father, that everyone who sees the Son and believes in Him may have eternal life, and I shall raise him up on the last day.” - Jn 6:39-49

From the Desk of Father John

Today, we celebrate All Souls Day. We are reminded that dying is something that all of us must do, but we need not be afraid if we have come to Jesus because we will be raised up with Him.

In the Book of Wisdom, we are promised, "In the time of their visitation (God's loving judgment of those who have been faithful to Him) they shall shine and shall dart about sparks through stubble."

Those who know the Son and believe are in peace. If we know that we have believed in our lifetime, we can trust the promises of today's Scriptures. We, too, can be in peace here and in the afterlife.

All of us will die. We need not be afraid if we have lived life turning to Jesus, if we have lived life righteously, justly, with faith in Jesus. We have been baptized and the Spirit has been poured into us. We can believe that "hope does not disappoint." We may need some purification when we die. However, it is the will of God that we not be lost, but that we be raised up and have eternal life.

Pro-Life: As you read this, more people are being killed in the womb than on every battlefield in the world. Over 40,000 babies die every day in America due to chemical and surgical abortions. That's 1,666 babies every hour, that's over 27 babies per minute each and every day in America.

Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed

One of the most terrifying events in a parent's life is the discovery that his or her child has become addicted to drugs. But with love, parents can begin the long road to recovery both for their child and for themselves. Early on, one difficult aspect of this recovery is the addict's tendency to want to isolate him or herself away from the world. They are ashamed, angry, embarrassed; it is easier for them to resist temptation by shutting out the world, but their parents have a tough time understanding this. All they see is someone existing, not living.

Jesus makes a tremendous promise in today's Gospel reading from John. To all those who are simply existing, He extends the invitation of life. He describes Himself as the Bread of Life and says, "I will not reject anyone who comes to Me....." No one is excluded! No tricks, no exceptions, only the invitation to come into His loving arms. Jesus understands the pain of a life that simply exists; in His message today, we once again are offered the Bread of Life, a life we must hunger for.

Just as we sit down each day for our "daily bread," food that will sustain our physical life, our spiritual life is nourished through the partaking of Holy Communion. The Catechism of the Catholic Church teaches us that "Communion ....preserves, increases, and renews the life of grace received at Baptism" (CCC 1392). Do you simply exist in the activities of your daily life? When you next receive the Holy Eucharist, pause for a moment to contemplate what it truly means, nourishment for your soul that will sustain you for all eternity. Remember the invitation of Jesus that all who come to Him are welcome. Choose to live!

Prayer for Rain: Almighty God, we are in need of rain. We realize now, looking up into the clear, blue sky, what a marvel even the least drop of rain really is. To think that so much water can fall out of the sky, which now is empty and clear! We place our trust in You. Look on our dry hills and fields, dear God, and bless them with the living blessing of soft rain. Then the land will rejoice, and the rivers will sing Your praises, and the hearts of men will be made glad. Amen.

*The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom do I fear?
The Lord is my life's refuge; of whom am I afraid?*

- Psalm 26, 1
